Pope Road Beach Access Closure due to Beach Renourishment Project

St. Johns County, FL – The St. Augustine Beach Pope Road beach access point will be closed beginning Monday, November 27 due to an Army Corps of Engineers beach renourishment project. The beach access point will remain a staging area for equipment throughout the project, which is scheduled to be completed in spring 2018. This project will renourish critically-eroded shoreline between Anastasia State Park and 8th Street in St. Augustine Beach. The beach will remain open outside of work areas, however, residents and visitors are encouraged to exercise caution when visiting during this time.
